Clover Tool Becomes Presenting Sponsor of PWHL Champion Tamara Giaquinto's Train With The Pros™

Family-owned company invests in the next generation of girls' hockey by supporting one of its own

Toronto, Ontario – July 2026 — Clover Tool is proud to announce its partnership as the Presenting Sponsor of PWHL Walter Cup Champion Tamara Giaquinto's Train With The Pros™, the Women's Coaches Academy, and the inaugural U SPORTS Recruiting Showcase, taking place August 10–12, 2026, at Canlan Sports North York in Toronto.

More than a sponsorship, this partnership represents a shared commitment to investing in the future of girls' hockey and empowering the next generation of female athletes and coaches.

For Clover Tool General Manager Rob Zeni, the partnership is also deeply personal.

Tamara Giaquinto's journey—from a young hockey player growing up in Toronto to Walter Cup Champion with the Montreal Victoire of the Professional Women's Hockey League (PWHL)—has been one of determination, perseverance, and excellence. As a proud family member, Rob has watched Tamara dedicate herself to becoming one of the top players in women's hockey. Now, Clover Tool is helping ensure that young girls have the opportunity to learn directly from someone who has achieved the dream many of them are pursuing.

As the featured professional instructor at Train With The Pros™, Tamara returns to Toronto to share the knowledge, habits, and leadership skills that helped her become a Boston University captain, Hockey East Defender of the Year, and PWHL Walter Cup Champion.

Unlike a traditional hockey camp, Train With The Pros™ combines elite hockey instruction with leadership development, confidence-building, communication skills, and mentorship—providing young athletes with tools that extend far beyond the rink.

Joining Tamara on the ice will be internationally respected hockey leader Digit Murphy, creating one of the premier female-led hockey development experiences in North America.

In addition to the three-day player development camp, the event will feature the Women's Coaches Academy, designed to develop more women behind the bench, and the inaugural U SPORTS Recruiting Showcase, giving athletes the opportunity to be evaluated by Canadian university coaches while learning more about the Canadian university hockey pathway.

"Watching Tamara's journey from a young player to a Walter Cup Champion has been an incredible source of pride for our family," said Rob Zeni, General Manager of Clover Tool. "Tamara has always embodied the values that define Clover—respect, compassion, empathy, and a genuine commitment to helping those in need. Supporting Train With The Pros™ was an easy decision because it reflects everything we believe in—hard work, leadership, teamwork, and giving back. Tamara has shown what's possible through dedication and perseverance, and we're honored to help create an opportunity for young girls to learn from her and be inspired to pursue their own dreams."

As the Presenting Sponsor, Clover Tool will receive prominent visibility throughout the event, including branding on event apparel, digital marketing, social media, on-site signage, participant experiences, and community engagement initiatives.

Women's sports are experiencing unprecedented growth across participation, media, sponsorship, and investment. Through this partnership, Clover Tool is helping ensure that young female athletes have access to world-class coaching, mentorship, and opportunities that will inspire the next generation of leaders both in hockey and beyond.

About Clover Tool

At Clover Tool Mfg. , we build more than world-class tooling — we build people, teams and communities.

As an industry leader in the design and build of Progressive, Hand Transfer and Mechanical Transfer Dies, and the manufacture of metal stampings and welded sub-assemblies, precision is our craft. But our real driving force? A culture that celebrates diversity, sparks innovation, and champions every individual's potential.

Through our Clover Care 360 program, we empower leaders at every level, rally around shared goals, and foster a competitive spirit rooted in teamwork and respect. Sound familiar? It should — because those are the same values forged on the ice.

That's why we're thrilled to champion women in hockey and leadership. Every shift, every play, every hard-fought win builds the confidence, grit and leadership that carry far beyond the rink — into boardrooms, shop floors and communities everywhere.

Strong women. Strong teams. Strong futures. That's a lineup we're proud to be part of.
